THERE should be some special orders given the lice in regard to the extra lamps in and around Emma Square. They have been provided out of by the police.

As the schooner Kauikeaouli was going out on Tnesday evening, bound to Hamakaua, a native woman jumped overboard in the neighborhood of the Spar Buoy, and swam on shore. This woman had just completed a sentence of one month's imprisonment for deserting her husband. She landed safely near Fisherman's Point, and the schooner with the disappointed husband on board proceeded on the voyage to Hawaii. Even the patience of a quiet old horse can up at Richardson's corner for several hours, and throughout the heavy rain that fell that night. The animal tugged and pawed most impatiently to be relieved. It is a miracle that there is not another runaway to record. THURSDAY EVENING the band gave an excellent concert in that favorite resort, Emma Square. Not-withstanding the threatening and ominous clouds that passed overhead, there were spells of brilliant moonlight. The attendance was large, as it always is at the Square, and the majority of the audience listened attentively until the end of the concert. The lamps that have been lately erected in the Square will enable the public to listen with pleasure to the and any evening that it is desirable. In the Civil Summary Court on Wednesday G Engling sued Owen J. Holt for $43 60. Judgment was rendered for defendant. Dr. John S. McGrew vs. Captain Henry Berry, action of assumpsit for $8, was continued until the 29th instant at the request of defendant. Harry Miller vs. John Nelson, action of assumpsit for $45, was decided in favor of plaintiff. T. R. Foster & Co. brought two charges of desertion of contract service, which were settled out of court. CHILDREN should not be allowed to ride on the empty cars on the railway trestle work at the orner of Alapai and Beretania streets. The police should drive them off whenever they find them there. Parents and guardians should punish them if they won't keep away, and the railway people in charge secure the cars and fasten the doors of the shed over the shore end of the track. All of which will probably be done after a child or two has been run over and the fragments dropped on to the ground

In the Civil Summary Court on Tuesday the Ho-nokaa Sugar Co., represented by Messrs, F. A. Schaefer & Co., sued a Chinaman named Aseu, dias Ah Foo, for deserting contract service. The defendant claimed that he was discharged from the plantation, and offered two canselled contracts in evidence. An appeal was noted to the Supreme Court.

November 27, at the Fair in the Music Hall, afternoon and evening. THERE is a great deal of floricultural taste as well s other fine tastes in this community. We have often wondered why a superior florist, such as are so often met with in the cities of the States, was not stablished here. We have climate, every condition to favor floriculture to a high degree of perection. What we want is trained skill not only n landscape gardening, in horticulture in general, but a practical knowledge of the adoption of ornamental shrubs and plants of all kinds for the beautifying of homesteads. We also want trained skill in the preparation of floral decoration for occasions of festivity or sorrow. We want a firstclass florist in our fair city by the sea, who is ine has been decided upon and the road will pro- ready on call to supply us with perfect bouquets arranged with choicest art, or to assist our amateur tastes in giving additional beautiful effects to our gardens. We are pleased to say that such a florist, abroad, of acknowledged tastes in such matters, has arrived here per Suez, and we take pleasure in introducing to the favorable consideration of our fair horticulturists, Mr. Kidwell, a skilled florist, with large experience in his line of business. On Tuesday last Mr. Wray Taylor gave his ninth free organ recital. He was assisted by Mrs. Han-ford and Mr. A. T. Atkinson. The following programme was performed before a large and appreciative audience: Chromatic Fantasia and Gugue.

We are surrounded by a great cloud of witnesses; the prophets and saints who have gone before, and we have abundant reason to believe that our dead friends watch over us and that they are sent as messengers to us. We feel mysterious influences at work around us; unseen powers drawing us away from sin, and it is pleasant to believe that those who loved us most while they were on earth still watch over us now from the spirit world. The church, anxious to keep itself clear from spiritism had gone to the other extreme and was materialistic. Many a soul sometimes be exhausted under trying circum-stances. An instance of this nature occurred on the church: "Can the dead communicate with Tuesday night last. A horse and buggy was tied me?" and being met by a stern reproof for touch ing upon such a theme had sought "spiritualism' for an answer. We all know that " table tapping, 'chair tumbling' and "musical instrument bang ing" are but weak devices of frauds, but they have nothing to do with the spiritism of the Bible. Our lives will be more pure and holy if we stop to think that the spirits of our parents and friends see us; above all, if we think that God sees us always The speaker was eloquent and in earnest, and the lecture a source of comfort to many.

> THE TIMES" LEADING ARTICLE, -Extract from he London Times :- Passing by a crowd of minor notions, we come upon the exhibit of the Waltham Watch Company, which, in economical importance, is perhaps superior to anything else shown. The rivalry of the watches of this Company has already been felt by our own makers, and a hesitating attempt was made last session, in the interest of the Coventry manufacturers, to prevent the watch cases of the Company receiving the English stamp, which certifies that they are made of gold. It would seem that the Waltham Watches may defy all attempts to exclude them in this indirect way. Their first claim to public approval was derived from the extraordinary nicety of their construction. They were made with such perfect exactitude that the parts of all watches of the same class could be interchanged, and, production being thus made possible on a large scale, cheapness as well as excelence was secured. But the Company have gone on introducing improvements in their art, and the compensation balance they have devised seems to have overcome the standing difficulty of the varying expansibility of the spring and the wheel. It is said that the delicacy of construction of the mechanism invented by the Company is such that a micrometer they exhibit at Paris measures the twenty-five-thousandth part of an inch, and might readily be divided under a lens into one-hundredthousandth parts. Civil Summary Court-BEFORE R. F. BICKERTON, Yesterday, the Chinese firm of Hang Lung Kee & Co., having their place of business at 27 Hotel-street, brought a suit for $200 damages against Police Officers Marcos and Oadt-who searched their premises on Sunday, November 5th, for opium.

Mr. Hartwell appeared for the plaintiffs, and Mr. J. M. Davidson for the defendants. It was claimed by the defendants that their defence would be that they acted lawfully in the execution of a legal search warrant from the Police Court. At the opening of the case, Mr. Hartwell stated that in his opinion, the Police Magistrate was not competent to decide this case, inasmuch as it was by his authority this the search warrant was issued. Mr. Hartwell failed to see how a judge could try a case without prejudice in which he is himself interested. If the Magistrate decided for the defendants, he was deciding for himself. Very grave questions might arise on this point, and he (Mr. H.) spoke in the interests of all concerned. He thought it was one of those cases that the Police Magistrate ought not to try.

Mr. Davidson remarked that if His Honor had taken any part in the execution of the warrant he would be a party to the defence, but not otherwise.

There was a large attendance at the hour announced for the commencement of the sale, including many relatives of the deceased and heirs to the estate. What the People Say. We cheerfully make room for the following letter which explains itself. ED. P. C. A. HONOLULU, November 21st, 1882. To Mr. Frank Godfrey,-Dean Sin : I take this public manner of thanking you for your kindness in voluntarily going to the help of my youngest son and his companion, who, on the morning of the King's birthday were drifting out to sea, through the channel, in a boat too clumsy for them to control. You, seeing that they were in trouble, ran the Mabel alongside their boat, and, after securing it at considerable trouble to yourself, to the lighthouse pier, took the children with you to the Immigration jetty and there landed them in safety. By this generous and thoughtful act you saved the children's lives, probably, and placed cavself and all parents of venturesome boys un-

Very truly yours, J. S. SMITHIES. Ms. Eotros,-The statement made by F. lodfrey, that the King's boat refused to come to his assistance when his yacht the Mabel capsized on the 16th instant, is a wilful malicious lie. der deep obligation to yourself.

Ms. Eprros,-By a special notice that ap peared in a Saturday print, signed "Frank Godfrey," the public would infer that on the 16th instant the King's barge, of which I was in charge, had wilfully refused to render any ssistance to the yacht Mabel. As the impresion conveyed is untruthful in every respect, I beg to lay before you the following facts : The barge was alongside of the Iwalani wharf at the time the accident happened. Immediately that I was aware of a boat being in distress I gave orders to the men to put out seaward, to render what assistance I could. When I arrived there I found that Godfrey and the man that was with him had been rescued by Wilcox's boat. Williams' boat was also on the scene before me, and Godfrey was transferred from Wilcox's to Williams' boat, in which he was taken to the capsized Mabel. On coming up to them, I asked Godfrey if I could be of any assistance to him, He replied "Never mind," making a motion with his hand to the same effect. had no reason for going out there but to render assistance, as the crew was about to engage in a forthcoming race .- I am, sir, yours, etc.,
